Outside Fundraising

Without receiving an increased share of the budget of the Research School of Social Sciences, the number of academic appointments in RegNet in RSSH increased from 5 in 2001 to 30 in 2004. The major factor in this was outside fundraising, much of it led by the RegNet Founder. RegNet raised AU$35 million in outside funds during 2001-2004, about half of it going to network partners outside RSSH. Since 2005 has been a CI on 9 Australian Research Council Discovery, Fellowship or Linkage grants, participated in two ARC Research Networks and one Centre of Excellence.

Citations

In Linda Butler (2006) Citation Analysis for RSSH Review, the highest citations for any scholar in the 'Group of 8' research-intensive Australian universities, in the disciplines of the Research School of Social Sciences.

Found by a Cambridge University study (Journal of Criminal Justice, 1999) to be consistently in the 1990s the most cited scholar in "International Criminology Journals" (excluding US journals). See also British Journal of Criminology 1998, which finds ranking for citations in four leading criminology journals to rise from 11th for 1986-1990 to 5th for 1991-95. An update of this Cambridge research published by Cohn and Farrington (Australian and New Zealand Journal of Criminology, 2007, p. 348), found Braithwaite's citations to rise again from 5th place to 1st place among all criminologists in the world on this measure. On a more recent update by Cohn and Farrington, he has dropped to 4th place (Criminal Justice Review 2012). Since then, many more criminologists have moved past him as few of his publications have been in criminology since the 1990s (see Cohn, Farrington and Iratzoqui, Most Cited Scholars in Criminology and Criminal Justice (2014)).

Wright et al reported in the Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice (2001) that 4 of the 20 most cited works on white-collar crime were authored or co-authored by Braithwaite and that he was the most cited author in this sub-field.

4 publications with over 1000 citations in Google Scholar, 36 with over 100.
